

You are a problem solver with a medical background, who is interested in Clinical Trial Supply?

Heidelberg Pharma AG is a biopharmaceutical company based in Ladenburg near Heidelberg. Heidelberg Pharma AG is listed at the Frankfurt Stock Exchange in the Regulated Market/Prime Standard. Our main goal is to develop cancer therapies. Our focus is primarily on the ongoing development of ADCs, which are based on our innovative ATAC® technology whose payload consists of the active ingredient Amanitin.

For our location in Ladenburg we are looking to hire a

in a full-time, permanent position.

What awaits you:

- You plan, execute and monitor clinical trials in cooperation with other scientific departments as well as the responsible CRO (Clinical Research Organization).
- You participate in the preparation of study protocols as well as associated documents, such as CRFs, Monitoring Plan, and other documents.
- In addition, you are responsible for compliance with quality standards, timelines, and study budget.
- In your role as Clinical Trial Manager, you are in charge of the supply chain activities for IMPs of national and international clinical trials.
- You create and maintain accurate clinical supply demand for assigned studies.
- You also define and develop appropriate supply strategies for clinical trial supplies, e.g. labelling requirements, packaging design/layout, depot structure and distribution setup for global clinical trials, together with the relevant multiple internal (e.g. CMC) and external interfaces.
- You manage and monitor external vendors for IMP labelling packaging, storage, comparator sourcing and logistics.

What we look for in you:

- You have a degree in health care, life sciences, nursing or other medical professions or equivalent professional experience.
- 3-5 years of professional experience in the field of clinical research with a CRO, pharmaceutical or biotech company is required for this position.
- You are a highly motivated problem solver and have a proactive personality with the ability to work in a multi-cultural team as well as self-dependent.
- It is self-evident for you to treat information and data confidentially.
- You possess an organizational talent with excellent communication skills.
- You love to work in the field of clinical research, and you have a good sense of humor.

- Fluent Business and/or Medical English and very good command of German language (each spoken and written) complete your profile.

What we offer:

After the first patient has been dosed with HPD 101 in a phase I/IIa study, we are still building up the department, therefore, you will be part of a team consisting of many new colleagues. Here you will have the opportunity to develop your place in the team. And as a newcomer you will be properly trained.

- As part of an international team, you will contribute to the research and development of medicines against cancer. You can expect a professional working environment with highly motivated employees and a friendly and welcoming working atmosphere.
- We place great importance on giving you the opportunity to develop your potential and thus contribute to the success of our company. We support you with training opportunities.
- We care about the health of our employees: compatibility of family and career, company pension scheme, measures for company health management (e.g. additional preventive medical examinations as part of company health insurance policy, active break, bike leasing) as well as the possibility to continue working safely despite COVID-19 are of great importance to us.
